FORTS TAKEN

Allies Smash Way Into Dardanelles—
Constantinople May Be Captured Soon

England Annuls All Sailings From British Ports
—Coil Tightening Around Germans

London, February 26.—The forts at the entrance of the Dardanelles have been reduced after an all day bombardment by the Franco-British fleet, according to announcement made by the admiralty shortly after midnight.

All the forts at entrances to the straits were successfully reduced. The operations are continuing.

Six More Nations To Join Allies.

London, February 25.—The highest diplomatic authorities here let it be known today that at least six more nations will have entered the war arena before April 1. They are Holland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Italy and Roumania.

The German blockade has forced the taking off of many vessels from North sea run and has created anti-German feeling throughout the Netherlands.

Reports from The Hague tell of numerous secret night meetings there of foreign diplomats. Both the army and navy show feverish preparations for war.

May Stop Exports.

The Scandinavian countries will probably put an embargo on all exports to Germany.

There are enormous quantities of American goods in Norway awaiting shipment to Germany, according to official sources.

A sudden change of feeling concerning the attitude of Italy has been noticeable in diplomatic quarters in Rome during the last few days.

Close observers in Rome of the political situation declare that since the readiness of Italy to join the war has become apparent the insistence of Germany upon her continued neutrality has grown stronger.

Sailings of Liners Annulled.

Liverpool, February 26.—All New York sailings have been suspended temporarily by the British admiralty. All the regular liners booked to sail for New York are held in port.

THE FOXWORTHY FAMILY

Have Notable Record For Holding Postmaster At Mt. Carmel—Other Newsy Items From Fleming County.

Flemingsburg, Ky.
To The Public Ledger:

Mrs. Sallie Foxworth Norwood, wife of the late Henry B. Norwood, and postmistress at Mt. Carmel, near here, is having an auction of general merchandise preparatory to moving to Fort Myers, Fla., to make her home with her four brothers there.

William Byron will succeed Mrs. Norwood as postmaster.

An incident, a little out of the ordinary, is connected with the postoffice at the place.

Before the war, Gilbert Adams, Sr., who amassed considerable wealth in Philadelphia, came to Kentucky and located at Mt. Carmel, and soon became postmaster and was such until the close of the war.

Immediately after, Squire E. Foxworthy made application and the office passed into his hands, and from 1866 until the present time the office has been in the Foxworthy family, with the exception of the two Cleveland administrations, at which time Gilbert Adams, Jr., present postmaster of this city, held the office, and then a few months with Oliver Clay who, with his family, has been temporarily located here, as auctioneer for the Growers warehouse and also the Burley house at Paris, accompanied his family as far as Paris to their home at Waldron, Ind. Mr. Clay is the present deputy county clerk of this county.

Miss Elizabeth Lutrell of Maysville is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Obed Collins.

Mr. and Mrs. Abner Hord are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Murray Hubbard, at Covington.

Mr. Robert L. Hoechlin returned last night from a week's visit in New York City.

Mr. Luther Gambell of Latonia is a business visitor in the city today.

Mr. Nace Brady was a Cincinnati visitor yesterday.

ROBBED FARM HOUSE.

Sheriff Brothers of Bracken county notified the local police yesterday to be on the lookout for William Lyons who, it is alleged, robbed a farm house near Augusta about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Lyons was seen in this city yesterday, he having formerly made this his loafing place, his home being in Aberdeen. About two years ago, while working on the Ohio river steamer Chilo, plying between Chilo and Cincinnati, Lyons killed the colored porter on the boat, but was acquitted by the courts.

ONLY TWO DAYS LEFT

To get The Courier-Journal daily by mail for $3. Leave subscriptions at De Nuzie, 229 Market street.

Rev. James H. Fielding, Rector of the Church of the Nativity, is the latest victim of the prevailing, but unpopular malady, the grip.

One of the most attractive Five Hundred parties given this winter was that of Thursday afternoon, given by Mrs. John Harbeson and Mrs. Courtney McGuire at their home on Third street, between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock.

The occasion was in honor of Mrs. Richard Brough of Wisconsin, who is the much-feted guest of relatives, both of the town and county.

There were eight tables and after the games had been played, their invited guests came in for refreshments, not caring for cards, which added greatly to the already merry throng.

The house was filled with the sweet perfume of spring flowers which decorated the entire lower floor, giving a forecast of that season so dear to the hearts of all, young and old alike.

Among the guests were a few of the young brides of recent date and those who have taken on the dignity and grace of "young matrons," all of whom rivaled the flowers around them in the pretty frocks and sweet expressions.

All agreed with one accord that the afternoon had been a success in every detail and would redound to the good judgment and taste of the two hostesses.

FOUR ADDITIONS—FOREST AVENUE MEETING CLOSES TONIGHT.

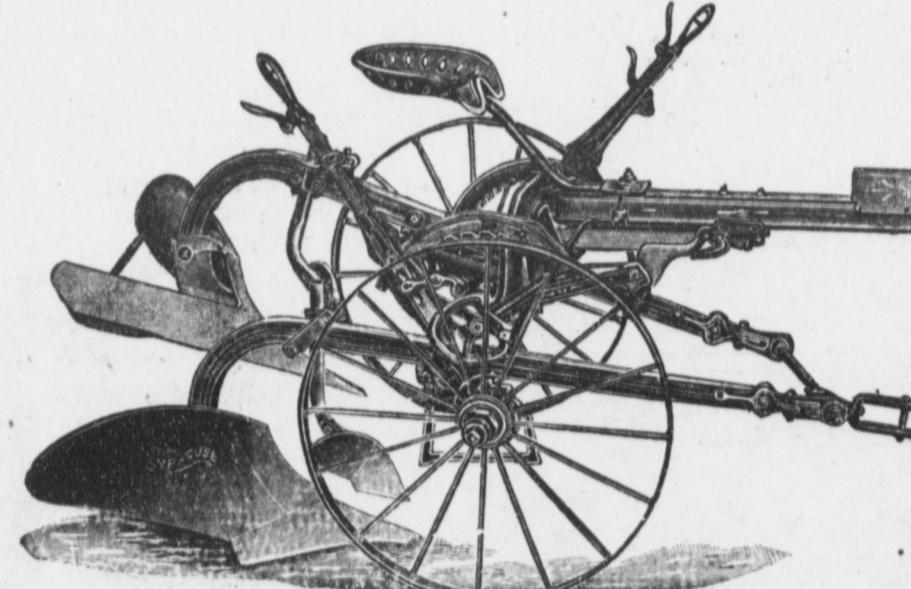

There were four additions last evening to the Forest Avenue M. E. church revival meeting.

Rev. Hall's sermons are very interesting and effective and the meeting has resulted in great good to the church.

The revival closes with tonight's service. All invited.

Rev. H. B. Wilhoite, pastor of the First Baptist church, is on the sick list with a case of the grip.

Yesterday in Police Court Bessie Haley, colored, was fined $6.50 on a drunk charge.

JAPAN AND UNCLE SAM.

In an address before the American School Peace League the other night, Hamilton Holt said in discussing the Japanese situation: "I have recently been there and studied conditions and I can safely say that Japan would rather have our friendship than that of any other nation in the world."

Undoubtedly this is true, just as a similar statement of feeling toward Russia probably would have been true ten years before the fight at Port Arthur. No sane man wants war with any other nation, but when racial prejudice, commercial greed and starvation competition all enter the problem there frequently arise conditions which are more powerful than the desire for peace.

When these conditions arise it is too late to prepare. This is one fatal defect in the argument of the peace-at-any-price men. They live in the atmosphere of Washington's time and fail to realize what Watts, Ericson and Edison have lived and wrought since those early days when enemies were three months away and every American was an adept in handling the smooth-bore rifles with which the destinies of nations were settled.—Commercial-Tribune.

THE MAN WHO FELL INTO A CISTERN.

The way to build a tariff wall is to build it high enough to protect. I knew a man once who fell into a cistern. He was a very tall man. He was six feet tall. Now, the water in that cistern was only six feet and two inches deep, only two short inches over his head; but he drowned as effectually as if he had been dropped into the depths of the unfathomable ocean. You talk about lowering the tariff wall by degrees or per cents. You may only lower the tariff on a given article two per cent, but that two per cent may be like the last two inches of water in that cistern—just enough to destroy. And when you lower a tariff wall enough to destroy an American industry, the blood of that industry is on your hands.—Congressman Cushman.

GYMNASISTICS NATURE'S PREVENTIVE AGAINST DISEASE.

Not only will such training develop our youth to be strong and enduring, but it will prevent the growth of maladies which today are prevalent throughout the land. For instance, if we know what exercise to take, we may avert nervous prostration, rheumatism, anemia, neuralgia, insomnia, gout, dyspepsia, catarrh and colds of every form. We may abort these diseases at the start. If allowed to become fully developed their cure may still be effected, though in much longer time. The supervisor of such training should of necessity be one who has studied the effects of every movement he gives, and who prescribes his exercise as the physician prescribes medicine.

WHY BUY AT HOME?

An advocate of the "buy-at-home" idea makes this strong point: "As a general thing, the nearer home you buy goods the better you can depend on; the quality." More might be said in support of home buying, but nothing could possibly be said with more force. Recognize the idea when buying and give your patronage to the man you expect to treat you fairly and be honest with you. He is entitled to this regard from the fact that he wants to keep your confidence, and, therefore, is going to give you just what you buy.—Paducah News-Democrat.

You feel like shouldering a hoe and getting into the possible future garden, or shouldering a fishing pole and hiking to that favorite spot you know about when this sort of weather comes along?—Lexington Leader.

NO MORE INVESTIGATIONS NEEDED.

Hundreds of investigations into the tariff have been made by experts, partial and impartial. The document rooms are filled with all sorts of reports. Anybody with an itch for information can find out all about costs at home and abroad from the Department of Commerce. The fact which attracts the American people at this particular time is that under protection the country is prosperous, with employment for every one, while under a so-called tariff for revenue only the nation has never fared so well. This fact speaks for itself. There is no need for further investigations.—Washington Post.

NOT SUBJECT TO SEARCH AND SEIZURE.

The United States Supreme Court ruled Tuesday that the correspondence files of the Louisville & Nashville are not subject to search and seizure by the Interstate Commerce Commission. All records, accounts and memoranda, however, may be inspected, even those dealing with matters prior to the Hepburn act. The decision sustains Judge Evans almost entirely.

EACH WILL GET WHAT'S COMING TO HIM.

Preparatory for the renomination of President Wilson by the Democrats, they are now endeavoring to shift the blame of the long session of Congress and its dubious results to Mr. Underwood. But the voters know fairly well who put through the tariff law and each will get his just reward.—Kingston (Mo.) Mercury.

SAFETY FIRST.

R. M. F. tries to weaken our neutrality by getting all peev'd over the act of the Kaiser in pinning a decoration on his two-and-a-half-year-old grandson. "Could you imagine President Wilson pinning anything on his grandson?" he asks. Yes, but he probably would be awkward about it.—Chicago Herald.

This is from Australia: "Gentlemen, a member of the House has taken advantage of my absence to twerk my nose behind my back. I hope that the next time he abuses me behind my back like a coward he will do it to my face like a man, and not go skulking into the thicket to assail a gentle man who isn't present to defend himself."

The New York peace enthusiast who got a police permit to parade all by himself from the Bazaar to Columbus Circle by way of a peace demonstration must hold, with the Kaiser, that "one man with God is a majority."—Owensboro Messenger.

The European war, with all its miseries, has helped America, in a business way, far more than the national administration.—Cedar Rapids (Ia.) Leader.

That old old story about the Dutch taking Holland is paralleled. Great Britain has annexed Egypt.—St. Louis Republic.

With so much peanut politics about the navy, one would think there would be more shells.—Boston Transcript.

Mrs. Dearborn—You say that is Mrs. Burke Martin? Mrs. Wabash—Yes. Burke was her name and Martin was her husband's name.

Mrs. Dearborn—But why does she use the hyphen between the names?

In LABOR'S WORLD.

THE HOME MERCHANT.

The home merchant. Who is he? He is the chap who gives you credit when you are financially broke, and carries your account until you are able to pay.

He is the chap who gives you back your money or makes exchanges when you are not satisfied with what you have bought.

He is the chap who stands behind his guarantee, and makes restoration of all losses that you may sustain on the goods you buy.

He is the chap who meets you at the door with a handshake and lets you out with a message to the "kids" and a real come-again goodby.

He is the chap who meets you on the street every day in the year, and takes a neighborly interest in your family and your affairs.

He is the chap whose clerks and book-keepers and other employees live in Mason county and spend their money with you and with other Mason county people.

He is the chap who pays heavy taxes to help support Mason county schools, and build Mason county roads, and maintain town fire departments and police departments, and parks and lighting and water service.

He is the chap who helps support Mason county churches and hospitals and charity organizations, and Mason county lodges and commercial clubs, and talks for Mason county and boosts for Mason county every day in the year.

He is the chap who visits you when you are sick, sends flowers to your family when you die, and follows your body out among the trees and tombs, as far as human feet may travel with the dead.

He is the home merchant—your neighbor—your friend—your helper in times of need.

Don't you think that you ought to trade with him, and be his friend and his helper in the time of his need?

Don't you know that every dollar that you send out of Mason county for merchandise, is sent to strangers—to men who never spend a dollar in Mason county, to men who would not trust you for a box of matches, to men who would turn you over to the police if you should enter their offices?

You don't save much, frequently nothing, when you send your money out of Mason county, and you take all the risk yourself of short weight or measure and of getting damaged or inferior goods. And don't you know that the growth and prosperity of the county depends very largely upon the success and prosperity of the home merchants? Out-of-town people judge our city by the appearance of our stores and the degree of enterprise shown by our merchants. And our home merchants can not succeed unless home folks give them loyal support.—Appropriated from Danville (Ill.) Press with changes.

NEWEST IN SCIENCE.

A machine has been invented for beating carpet thoroughly as it is stretched upon the ground.

An Englishman has invented a coin-in-the-slot machine to enable a person riding in a train to ascertain at what speed he is going.

A Pennsylvania has invented a faucet which can be locked to prevent the misuse of the contents of barrels to which it is fastened.

A device consisting of jointed sections of veneered wood has been patented for pressing trousers without the danger of using hot irons.

The United States again exceeded previous records for petroleum production last year, the government estimate being 292,000,000 barrels.

To stop a skidding automobile a drag has been invented which can be thrown under the wheels by a handle within reach of the driver.

ARNOLD-KENT WEDDING.

Washington, February 26.—Congessional society was interested today in the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Kent, daughter of Representative William Kent and Mrs. Kent of California, and George Stanley Arnold of San Francisco. The date selected for the wedding was the anniversary of the marriage of the bride's parents. After a honeymoon trip in the south, Mr. Arnold and his bride will take up their residence in San Francisco.

The Man—His twelve children.

THEY ARE DREAMING AGAIN IN THE CINCINNATI BALL GARDEN.

(W. A. Phelon in Times-Star.)

As far back as records run, there seems to be no instance of a ball club's having been remade—taken apart and put together with new nails and cogs—as completely as has been done with the Cincinnati Reds, and with less publicity, noise or expense. Late in the summer the fans wondered at the expeditious manner in which the club had been revamped since spring—and yet, since October 8, the team has been reconstructed all over again, altered and cemented, refitted with new driving rods in every department, and given such an overhauling as hasn't been recorded since Brooklyn bought the old Baltimores or Pittsburg purchased the stars of Louisville. Even those historical shake-ups were not as thorough, while they were advertised a great deal more and cost a barrel more money.

It is impossible to realize the amount of industry applied by the tireless Herzog without going through the whole list of players, or, at least of the different departments.

WANT TIGHTER LID ON MOVIES

Columbus, O., February 26.—Representatives of civic, commercial and social organizations throughout Ohio conferred here today on plans to bring about a stricter supervision of motion picture shows in this state. A traveling executive secretary to see that the provisions of the censorship law are enforced is one of the proposals. It is demanded also that power be given the city authorities to inflict penalties upon exhibitors who show films not passed by the state censors.

EDITORS AT COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Council Bluffs, Ia., February 26.—The annual meeting of the Western Iowa Editorial association here today was marked by a large attendance. Among those who addressed the meeting on topics of importance to the editors and publishers were C. E. Corey of Omaha, W. D. Jamieson of Shenandoah, P. S. Smith of Creston and W. F. Budd of Ankeny.

GOOD ROADS NOTES

A Few Pertinent Suggestions From a Recent Issue of "Better Roads."

What will it cost? How long will it last? What service will it render? The greatest value at the least cost is what the people want.

There is a greater mileage of earth roads than of any other type, and these must have attention.

The plow, the harrow, the road grader, the scraper, the road roller and the drag are all needed on the earth roads.

Gravel should not be placed on the surface of a road without watering and rolling.

No general, fixed method can be prescribed for making repairs due to imperfect construction.

Excessive grades increase the cost of transportation and also add a heavy burden to maintenance.

No greater load can be moved over a road than can be moved over the maximum grade.

It is generally true that a road over a hill is no longer in length than the one around the base.

Needless grades demand wasteful exertion and unnecessary length causes loss of time and money.

The automobile has brought into road work, more than ever before, the question of the safety of travel.

The main problem in the construction of a road is drainage and without proper drainage no serviceable road can be built.

The elimination of water from the immediate foundation is of vital importance to any road.

WEATHER REPORTS

are sometimes erroneous. For instance, balmy and sunshiny weather is predicted for this week, but who knows but that the threes of winter may again be upon us even before this article is in print. It reminds one of the old story of the old farmer who started out on a beautiful, bright morning in May with an umbrella. His wife asked him his reason for taking his umbrella when the weather was so pretty. He replied that the almanac predicted rain, while the newspapers said fair and warmer, and he therefore did not know which to believe. There is one thing however, that people always know to be true, and that is that Traxel's Ice Cream is always the best dessert for all occasions. It is always good, winter or summer. Go to Traxel's the "House of Quality," for your ice cream wants.

Brazil in 1913 exported 11,308,345 sacks of coffee of 132 pounds each.

OUR DAILY BIRTHDAY PARTY.

"BUFFALO BILL" AT SEVENTH TIEHT MILESTONE.

Denver, Col., February 26.—Colonel William F. Cody ("Buffalo Bill"), who has been spending the winter in Denver, entered upon his seventieth year today, having been born in Scott county, Iowa, February 26, 1846. Frome every quarter of the country came messages of congratulations to remind the veteran scout and showman of his birthday anniversary. The years have dealt kindly with Colonel Cody. To all appearances he is still the same robust, strikingly handsome cavalier, whom men and women now of middle age flock as children to look on in awed admiration as the famous scout chased the Indians about the exhibition arena and shot glass balls as he rode at full gallop on his magnificent white horse.

Though within sight of his seventieth milestone, Colonel Cody can not withstand the lure of the show ring. Four years ago he disposed of his "Wild West" show and announced that he would retire from giving public exhibitions. His intention at the time was to spend his remaining years on his ranch in the Wyoming Big Horn, where he helped make American history.

But before six months had passed he was back in the show business. And with the first breath of spring he will again take to the road, in company with his Indians, buffaloes and cowboy.

Colonel Cody's seventy years have been filled with adventure and a variety of activities such as have been experienced by very few men. Mule driver, pony express rider, stage driver, scout, soldier, hunter, showman—are a few of the occupations which have made the career of "Buffalo Bill" probably the most picturesque of living men.

From the day that his father was killed in a fight that gave "bloody Kansas" its name, William Cody was never idle.

At the age of 15, already a man in size and strength, he had been herder, messenger and stage driver and had won a name as a dead shot and a horseman few equals.

Under General Albert Sidney Johnson he saw his first Indian fighting.

The Civil war found him a private in the Seventh Kansas Cavalry, an active

"Jayhawker" regiment, and for more than ten years after the close of the war he saw service, first as scout and later as chief of scouts, in the Indian wars.

His commanders included Generals Sherman, Sheridan, Miles, Custer, Carr, McRee, De Boorda in musical recital; Mozart, lecture by Griswold, erstwhile newspaper man; Woods, Adams, in "Hamlet"; Pike, "Leah the Forsaken" will be on the boards again this evening and it may be that practice will enable Setchell and his company to make an entertainment out of the play. Let us hope so; it has certainly been a drag during the present run.

Amusements tonight: Melodeon, Sherman, Sheridan, Miles, Custer, Carr, Cook and Fry—all the famous Indian fighters of the period. It was when he was chief of scouts under General Crook, that he won fame by killing in single combat the Indian chief, Yellow Hand. In 1867 he won his title of "Buffalo Bill." It was then that a gang of 1,200 men were laying the tracks of the Kansas-Pacific across the plains and were famishing for fresh meat. Cody volunteered to furnish the meat and in 18 months, with his horse Brigham and his famous breach-loader, he killed 4,280 bison.

Between times he was deputy sheriff, justice of the peace and a member of the Nebraska Legislature. In the '70's he tried acting in a melodrama in the west and it was the success of this which led to the formation of the "Wild West" show with which his name has been linked for more than 30 years.

The packet Ohio Belle, which sank recently in the Lower Ohio, is said to be a total loss, due to the constant conflict with heavy ice.

There were eleven packet arrivals and a like number of departures. The harbor is congested with water craft and a strong effort will be made to force those not intending to leave at once to vacate the landing.

"PUSH AND PROGRESS"

Good Motto For Old Kentucky, Says Judge Wall—"Economy and Reform" Platform Means Death To "Big Business."

Judge Garrett S. Wall of Maysville, president of the State Board of Control of Charitable Institutions, in speaking of the conditions of the hospitals for the insane, and the absolute necessity of some appropriations by the next Legislature to erect buildings to relieve the crowded condition of the inmates, said he deprecated the platforms of most of the candidates for state offices and the General Assembly, because of the prominence given to the idea of "economy and reform." He thinks that "push and progress" would sound better and would enable our state to catch up with the procession of live states.

"The tax rate and valuation of property are lower in Kentucky than in nine-tenths of the other states," said Judge Wall. "The number of officials and employees and their salaries are much less than most of her sister states. The numerous investigating committees of the last Legislature failed to find any overpaid officials, any extravagance or any need of reform. If no extravagance, where can you economize? If no mismanagement, where can you reform? Many members of the last Legislature were elected upon a platform that pledged them to oppose all appropriations and abolish as many offices as possible.

"When our board asked for a Legislative Committee to visit the hospitals for the insane and see the awfully crowded condition and pressing necessity for relief, the appointment of a committee was refused, and we were told that the state was in debt, and that no matter what we ought to have, we could get nothing. Some of the members visited the Eastern Hospital at Lexington, and were so shocked at the crowded condition of the colored wards and the old building in which the inmates were herded, that they urged the Board of Control to ask for a special appropriation. A bill was introduced, but 'it died in committee,' as that was the least painful way to kill it."

Judge Wall hopes that the members will go to the next Legislature with the idea of pushing all measures that will aid in the progress of the state, and make all appropriations that are needed, not only for the hospitals, but for all other departments. If something is not done for the hospitals, he says, an order will have to be made to refuse to receive any more of the insane, and they will have to be retained in the jails and county infirmaries. This order, he declares, will have to be made in a few months, so far as the reception of colored patients is concerned. Judge Wall invites all members and candidates to visit the hospitals and verify his statements as to the situation.—W. S. K. in Louisville Times.

MORGAN WILL BUY $7,500,000 BONDS OF L. & E. RAILROAD.

(Lexington Leader.)

Another step in the contest for the control of the eastern Kentucky coal fields, which was begun several weeks ago, when the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company filed a mortgage in Whitesburg, Letcher county, for five million dollars to cover its intended operations in that territory, was taken yesterday in New York when the Louisville & Nashville railroad company contracted to sell to J. P. Morgan & Company $7,500,000 of the bonds of the Lexington & Eastern Railroad.

It will be recalled that immediately after the filing of the Baltimore & Ohio mortgage, the directors of the Lexington & Eastern railroad held a meeting in this city at which the authorized indebtedness of the railroad was increased from ten to twenty million dollars.

Upon this authorization, the company has planned to issue $7,500,000 worth of bonds which are to be backed by the first mortgage upon the lines of the Company, and will be further guaranteed by the Louisville & Nashville railroad system, which controls the Lexington & Eastern.

David Grayson, writing his story entitled "Hempfield" in the March American Magazine, says:

"Life has been good to me, and as I look back upon it no one thing seems more precious than the thought that I have been much trusted with deep things in the lives of other men and women. Next to living great things for one's self (we learn by and by to put that aside) it is wonderful to be lived through. It is wonderful to know a human soul and ask nothing of it save its utter confidence."

is some Tobacco. That is the number of pounds that was unloaded and sold at the HOME last week. This is a week's record that has never been exceeded by any loose leaf house in the world, and it shows what "home people" can do.

It is worth a long trip to see the ease and care and satisfaction with which they handled this great quantity of Tobacco. They took good care of every customer and all went home satisfied.

The Home is strictly a home concern. All of its capital stock is owned by residents of Mason, Bracken, Robertson and Lewis counties, Kentucky, and Brown and Adams counties, Ohio. It was erected for, belongs to and is run for the benefit of the Burley Tobacco growers and citizens of this section, and is able to handle and would like to have more business. It can take good care of all that comes. It has handled more business this year than ever before. It is the house that sorts and sells Tobacco well. Its officers and employees do not speculate in Tobacco. They serve alone the sellers.

If you are not a stockholder, they would be pleased to have you take some stock. They want every grower in this section to become a stockholder. Shares are $10 each. It has never failed to pay a dividend and will pay one this year. Get some of the stock. You could not make a better investment.

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE

Must Be Checked In Kentucky Says J. W. Newman, Commissioner of Agriculture, Who Sends An Appaling Letter To County Judge W. H. Rice.

County Judge W. H. Rice yesterday received from J. W. Newman, Commissioner of Agriculture, and now Ex-officio chairman of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board, the following letter, which is an appeal to the farmers of Mason county to help in the eradication of the foot and mouth disease from Kentucky:

Louisville, Ky., February 20, 1915.

Dear Judge: Copy of Quarantine Order No. 28, of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board, has been mailed you. In calling your attention to this order, permit me to say that this was issued for the purpose of giving the county authorities the backing of the law, in order that they might protect the live stock in their respective counties.

It is your duty, as chairman of the Fiscal Court, to prevent the spread of contagious diseases among the live stock in your county, so far as it is possible to do. As Ex-officio Chairman of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board, it has fallen to my lot to endeavor to protect this industry in the entire state.

It has been to me, and will be to you, a very unpleasant duty. However, as officials, we are bound by our oaths, and whatever may be the sacrifices that we must make, there is nothing left for us to do in this emergency but to do our duty.

If you exercise the powers vested in you by law, and under this official order, you can prevent the introduction of the dreaded plague of foot and mouth disease into your county, and if you have the co-operation of your live stock owners, and an outbreak should occur, you can soon check it. Permit me to suggest to you that you call a meeting of the live stock owners of your county, warn them of the dangers now threatening the state, and appeal to them to organize a vigilance committee to aid you in preserving to your people one of the great, if not the greatest, industries of your county.

This disease now rages in three counties of Kentucky. We know others are endangered, and are compelled to remain here at the seat of infection, and hence must look to the farmers of each county to, in great measure, save themselves. Remember that the ship that carries a $40,000,000 industry in this state is now in great peril, and while we hope to be able to save it from utter destruction, we feel that we can only do so by sending out a warning to each county for its people to organize, not for lawlessness, but to enforce the law, educate the people to the dangers confronting them, and break down this awful wall of ignorance, prejudice and inactivity on the part of many live stock owners.

The state and Federal authorities have now, and have always had but one object in view, and that is to help the live stock owners. They have suffered all the ridicule, censure and misrepresentation from the day this disease broke out in Kentucky. They have not had the confidence of the live stock owners, and have endured many unkind things by some of the people, and some of the press. They have been right all the time, and have been backed by the experience of the civilized nations of Europe, for one hundred years, and by the Federal government in five previous outbreaks of this disease; and they have bent every effort to save the farmers from these great losses and inconveniences.

Every government in Europe has expended large sums of money in combatting this awful plague, it costing Germany in one fight $37,000,000, and England at one time $7,000,000. The United States government has now expended some $3,500,000 in this fight, and yet the average live stock owner will believe in politicians, road-side philosophers or inexperienced theorists rather than believe the accuracy of history.

It would be much more pleasant for state and Federal officials to refrain from taking action, and let the people suffer the consequences, but no official with a conscience can sit idly by and

JURISDICTION

Of County Judges Upheld By Ruling of Appellate Court.

Frankfort.—The act of 1914, providing that county judges shall have jurisdiction in all misdemeanor cases except in counties having courts of continuous session, was declared unconstitutional in the case of Green Kilburn, county judge of Lee county, against S. K. Chapman.

Chapman was arrested on a warrant charging him with suffering gaming, and was tried by the county judge. He objected to the jurisdiction of the judge on the grounds that the act under which he was tried violated section 141 of the constitution, which provides that the jurisdiction of county judges shall be uniform throughout the commonwealth.

Sarah Bernhardt's condition continues excellent, according to a bulletin.
